

KENYA TRIP 2013

We are overflowing with gratefulness to our GREAT God, as we return from two very fruitful weeks in Kenya! Several decades ago, God spoke to us that we'd minister in Africa someday, and this trip was the beginning of the fulfillment of that Word.

So much was packed into our days that it's hard to highlight just one thing! So here are some snapshots of some of the most memorable events!

Working with children in Kibera, the largest and most infamous slum in Africa. Together with Denise A., we spent two days with the children and some local leaders who live and minister in the slum. We spoke to the children of their destiny in God and the adults about Kingdom Culture. Life-changing!

Training pastors and church planters from Nations Training Institute (this school was established by our team leader, David Waldrop). These leaders came together from Kenya, Burundi, Tanzania, Rwanda, and Uganda. It felt like a taste of heaven as we worshipped together in Swahili!

Had a special connection with a brother from Burundi, who was forced to become a child soldier at five years of age. This brother has such a sweet spirit, and our hearts were linked.

We spread out to teach and preach in several churches on Sunday. Greg even had the opportunity to lead one young man to the Lord during his service!

We drove 7 hours southeast from Nairobi to Mombasa and Mariakani and spent 3 days with Pastor Samuel and his large network of churches. They really know how to worship! Even had a chance to dip our feet in the African side of the Indian Ocean in between meetings!

We were hosted for meals in several Kenyan homes, including that of a former Muslim who is now following Jesus! We were treated like Kings and Queens in African fashion!

Networking with other American missionaries with a July 4th cookout!

On our last day in beautiful Kenya, we enjoyed a half-day safari reveling in God's creation, along with zebras, elands, giraffes, hippos, ostriches, antelopes, wildebeest, and lions!

We rejoice in safety, unity, and a great anointing in all of our adventures! We have huge open doors for future ministry in many east African nations.

We thank you again for your encouragement, prayer and financial support for this assignment! Please continue to pray with us that good and solid fruit will remain, and that God would protect our rear guard as we come off of this trip. And that God will show us what our future connection with Africa should look like!

Yours for Great Commission equipping,
